

2012 Concert Pricing and Information

It is time to order our annual performance costumes! We will be holding our fabulous production at the brand new Coralville Performing Arts Center the weekend of June 1-3, 2012. The venue is beautiful, will allow for even more spectacular lighting and backdrops and has plenty of space for dressing/holding areas. Our annual concert is not required for our students and our classes are separated into 5 shows. Which show(s) each class will be performing in will be available to you in January. Please review the pricing and accessory requirements below and confirm your sizing and classes on the following page.

Costume sizing and payment due December 21st

No refunds are given after December 28th when the costumes are ordered.
